My dear Mr. Household

How sorry I am to have dropped from the Pen my friends all this holiday time but you too have been bad of it in being ill! I am glad to hear it was only a bad cold which by the way is bad enough.

The last thing that came to me was a poem of classical fugliness of theme treatment subject. I am afraid I always respected that there was a lurking 'Poet's Corner' somewhere.

I have never been able to do anything but I have thought much from time to time & look forward to those few days of conference with from Mr. Franklin very much indeed. The thing we have to handle is a big thing. It's here almost takes my breath away, for one hardly knows where it will go to.

Many thanks for letting me see the Conference paper. I am glad you dwelt on the fruit & sound
